

Bethany Duck

👤 Profile

After completing my BA in Music Production and gaining four years of experience in the live music industry as an audio engineer, I moved on to become the UK Production Operations Manager at Sofar Sounds, a global platform for live music events.

I am also the co-founder of U Gd Girl, a non profit organisation for women and non-binary people in London. I am passionate about creating a supportive and inclusive community for people who share my values and interests.

I am an organised and detail oriented person, but I am also very creative and I am now looking to pursue new opportunities that align with my passions and skills.

📅 Employment History

UK Production Operations Manager at Sofar Sounds, London

April 2022 — December 2023

Working at Sofar Sounds as the UK Production Operations Manager, I have managed the content creation, overseen the audio quality and equipment of over 80 shows per month, and coordinated a team of 15 audio engineers across the country.

I have successfully delivered high-quality and memorable experiences for both artists and audiences, while ensuring operational efficiency and compliance. I have also worked closely with the marketing team to support and organise social media campaigns and content capture for over 200 artists across the UK and managed the production process from start to finish.

Co Founder at U Gd, Girl?, London

August 2022 — Present

I am the co-founder of U Gd Girl, a non profit organisation for women and non binary folk in London. We run discussion based events and workshops to support and enhance communication within these communities. I help to plan and execute these events but I also run all of our social media across multiple platforms. In order to build and manage an online community, I have become efficient in monitoring trends, strategic planning, building relationships.

Freelance Audio Engineer

September 2018 — September 2022

As a freelance audio engineer, I set up PA systems for live music events and conferences, mixing live bands for Sofar Sounds and other venues such as Soho House and The Ned.
